100 little babies lay three and four to a cardboard box, strapped in the belly of a gutted cargo jet. Saigon was falling to the communists - - and LeAnn was caught up in the Vietnam Orphan Airlift. An ordinary person, she struggled through extraordinary circumstances, and found the courage to succeed. Today LeAnn shares life-balance lessons with healthcare workers, reminding them why they entered this profession...and why they stay.

Chicken Soup for the Healthcare Giver's Soul: Balancing Life in Your 'War Zones'

LeAnn not only survived, but loved her 30+ years as a nurse! She understands how many of the challenges in the "war zone" of the Orphan Airlift, apply to the "war zones" in healthcare today:

- Having too much to do and not enough resources and to get it all done
- Finding the right people to give competent, compassionate, efficient care
- Caring for others while neglecting to care for ourselves
- Creating balance between work and family life
- Coping with the stress of caring for others, while having to do more with less

LeAnn inspires hope, courage, and joy to not only survive "war zones," but to find peace there.
